

AIM Social Dentist™

Setting up and maintaining your dental blog, social networking sites, online directories, and review sites is a proven way to grow your dental practice, but it can require a substantial commitment of time and effort on your part. That's why we created AIM Social Dentist. We do it all, including the development of a content schedule comprised of dentistry related material with a concentration on Oral Systemic topics, which we post to sites like Facebook and Twitter on your behalf.
